I have reviewed Encana's proposed NPL development project and would like to state that I support their efforts and would hope that permits would be issued to allow them to proceed in this endeavor. I have been impressed with this company's efforts to mitigate damage to the surface area and their efforts to drill as many wells from one pad as they can. I am also pleased with their internal efforts to control spills and discharges.

With the inevitable decline in production in the Jonah field the project would go a long way to maintain the economic stability in the area. I think that there are a lot of people who have invested a huge amount of their personal resources in an effort to establish their families in Wyoming; maintaining a stable environment in the energy industry is the foundation enabling them to stay here.

My family has benefitted from the taxes that are generated from this industry especially with revenue that our schools receive.

Sincerely
